When You Set Up a Trap For a Poor Little Friendly Mouse and Catch Him

UNTIL LAST night HE WAS a little mouse.

AND WE'D had him with us. FOR WEEKS and weeks. AND SO for as we know. HE DID no damage. AND WHERE he came from WE COULDN'T tell. AND WE used to find him. LATE AT night. WHEN WE'D go to the kitchen. FOR A little bite. BEFORE GOING to bed. AND HE'D be there. ON THE kitchen floor. AND THE first time I saw him. HE SCAMPERED AWAY. AS FAST as he could. AND DISAPPEARED. BENEATH THE PADES. AND AFTER a while. WHAT FEAR he had. OF HUMAN beings. GREW LESS and less. AND WE used to see him. PEEPING OUT. FROM BENEATH the range. AND HIS two little eyes. LIKE A couple of beads. WERE SOFT little eyes. THAT SEEMED to plead. FOR A bits to ext. AND TWO or three times. I WAS sorely tempted. TO LEAVE him a crumb. BUT HOW did I know.

THAT HE wouldn't come back.

WITH A lot of friends.

AND THE nights went on. AND HE stayed around. AND GREW so bold. THAT HE'D come right out. WHILE WE were there-AND TAKE his time. WHEN WE'D shoo him away. AND WE talked It over. MY WIFE and L AND WE both agreed. THAT IF wasn't right.
TO ENCOURAGE him. AND ON Saturday night. WHEN HE came out. FROM BENEATH the range. WE TOLD him plainly. WE'D BOUGHT & trap. AND WERE going to set it. ON SUNDAY night. AND ON Sunday night WE TOOK the trap. AND A piece of cheesa. AND FIXED the spring. AND LAID It down. AND TALKED It over. AND STARTED back. TO GET the trap. AND WE'D reached the door. AND WE heard it snap.
AND HE'S out there now. AND WE know he's dead. AND HE never did soything. TO EITHER of us. AND WE'VE murdered him.

I THANK YOU

AND HE'D been our friend.

FOR WHEKS and weeks.

Stick to That Uld Wool Suit!

The supply of WOOL in the United States has been gradually decreasing owing to the enormous and stendily growing demands of the MILITARY establishment.

The need for all available OCEAN TONNAGE has caused the War Industries Board to REVOKE outstanding Heenses for IMPORTATION of wool from Uruguay, Argentina and South Africa for the remainder of the year—thus further depleting the supply.

The only exceptions to this rule are made in favor of the Quartermaster General of the United States Army.

Civilians MUST make their old garments SERVE-or wear SUB-STITUTES for wool! There's no getting away from it—so begin right now to WARM OVER THE CAST-OFF'S!

Old clothes are highly honorable these days, and respectable looking WHEN CLEAN, MENDED and PRESSED.

It is our business to smarten up old garments, whether in peace or WAR. Let us rehabilitate your WARDROBE, and SAVE you
